Subject: Notice of Copyright Infringement

There are 2 copyrighted works being infringed on slabbed.org, hosted by DreamHost. We have repeatedly given DreamHost notice of past violations by this web site involving these images.

The 1st copyrighted work at issue is the IMAGE that appears on:

<http://www.slabbed.org/2012/09/25/jefferson-parish-corruption-omnibus-today-aaron-broussard-put-his-hand-on-a-bible-and-admitted-he-is-a-filthy-sack-of-crap/>

The 2nd copyrighted work at issue is the IMAGE that appears on:

<http://www.slabbed.org/2012/12/04/wash-rinse-repeat-aaron-broussards-former-property-managers-in-canada-again-sue-slabbbed-for-defamation-in-nova-scotia/>

The URLs where the 1st copyrighted Image appeared have now been removed from publication. Please see attached transfer of copyright to me from the Ashoka Foundation assigning me the rights over this image.

The URL where the 2nd copyrighted image appears is: <http://www.thestar.com/news/canada/article/1125508--mississippi-blogger-must-pay-a-gay-couple-425-000-in-damages-nova-scotia-court-orders>

WE WILL PURSUE LEGAL ACTION AGAINST DREAMHOST UNDER THE CANADA COPYRIGHT ACT IF THESE IMAGES--EITHER HOSTED OR EMBEDDED--ARE NOT REMOVED FROM INFRINGING PUBLICATION. THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA HAVE NUMEROUS TREATIES RECIPROCALLY PROTECTING COPYRIGHT. THERE IS NO CDA PROTECTION FOR PUBLISHING THESE INFRINGING WORKS.

You can reach me at trout.point.lodge@gmail.com for further information or clarification. My phone number is +1-902-761-2142 and my mailing address is Charles Leary, Trout Point Lodge, P.O. Box 456, Kemptville, NS B0W 1Y0 Canada.

The email address of the website owner, who has republished Trout Point Lodge's content illegally, is:

earning04@gmail.com

Section 512 of the DMCA has a safe-harbor provision that relates to links you post to other online material located elsewhere or embedded material. This safe-harbor provision is found in section 512(d), and it states that an online service provider will not be held liable for money damages "for infringement of copyright by reason of the provider referring or linking users to an online location containing infringing material or infringing activity, by using information location tools, including a directory, index, reference, pointer, or hypertext link." If DreamHost hosted this copyrighted material or hosted links to this image without knowing that it infringed copyright, the language of this section appears to relieve DreamHost of liability, as long as DreamHost did not have actual knowledge that the material it linked to/embedded is infringing, or know any surrounding facts that would make the infringement apparent; did not receive any financial benefit directly attributable to the infringing activity if DreamHost had the ability to control such activity; and if DreamHost now acts expeditiously to remove or disable access to the infringing material (such as by taking away the link/embedded image) upon obtaining knowledge or awareness that the material is infringing or upon receiving this properly drafted notice of infringement.

I have a good faith belief that use, linking, and/or embedding of the copyrighted materials described above as allegedly infringing is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law.

I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the information in the notification is accurate and that I am the copyright owner or am authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed. By typing in my name below, I agree that this is my digital signature.

DreamHost, LLC
 New Dream Network, LLC

I am the copyright owner or agent of the copyright owner in 4 creative works currently being published in violation of copyright at www.slabbled.org, which is hosted by DreamHost. This includes telecommunication of the infringing works into Canada. This includes use of a copyrighted work in an infringing derivative work.

The creative works in question are described in paragraphs 21-24 of the attached judgement from the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, issued on February 14, 2014. All 4 works are registered with the Intellectual Property Office of Canada. DreamHost's telecommunications into Canada subject you to Canadian jurisdiction.

I have previously given Dream Host notice of infringement. I now have a Court Order identifying the works as mine and identifying Douglas Handshoe as violating my copyright.

Two of the works are being infringed at slabbled.org by what the Digital Millennium Copyright Act identifies as "transitory digital network communications" (§ 512(a)). That is, Douglas Handshoe is deep linking to material hosted on third party web sites. This violates the DMCA in the same way as actually hosting the images does. (DMCA attached)

DreamHost has a safe harbor under § 512(a) only if you disable such deep linking. The images are hosted by Expedia, Ashoka Changemakers, and the Toronto Star web sites with permission. Another image is hosted by the Frank Magazine web site without permission. The Terms of Service of Expedia, Ashoka, and the Toronto Star forbid deep linking to their content, which is copyrighted.

The URLs of the 3 infringing images currently hosted by DreamHost are:

I have a good faith belief that use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law. I certify that the information in this notification is accurate, and under penalty of perjury, that I am the owner of the photograph in question.

Thank you for removing the copyrighted images hosted by DreamHost.

Notably, Mr. Handshoe has vowed on Twitter to re-publish them in the near future. We will pursue all our legal rights should this occur. DreamHost is on notice that Mr. Handshoe is a serial copyright violator.

DreamHost has not, however, removed the images that are in-line linked, or embedded, on slabbed.org. These publications are being made in violation of the Canada Copyright Act, as determined by the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia in its February 14, 2014 decision.

We have no particular desire to pursue legal action against DreamHost. However, you are communicating these infringing images into Canada, at the very least in a contributory fashion. You have been put on notice on multiple occasions regarding Mr. Handshoe's illegal activities on the web site hosted by you. Mr. Handshoe has lied to you in numerous DMCA counter notifications.

I am again asking that you disable and/or remove the images on the pages hosted by DreamHost:

The pages on slabbed.org where the images appear are:

Hi foodvacation@gmail.com,

Thank you for your notification. It appears you have made a claim on behalf of a corporation, but have not written from a corporate email address. In order to prevent fraud, we need to ask you for more information.

Please help us verify that you are affiliated with the corporate entity listed as the copyright owner in your notice. For example, you may forward this message to your corporate email address and then re-forward to copyright@youtube.com, preserving the ticket number in the subject line. Alternatively, you may wish to provide a publicly listed telephone number for your company on which we may contact you directly. If neither of these options is applicable to you, please provide an explanation.

Please understand that the content will remain live on the site until we have received this verification and that abuse of the copyright notification process will result in the termination of your YouTube account. Under DMCA Section 512(f), any person who knowingly materially misrepresents that material or activity is infringing may be liable for damages.

I am the owner of the copyright, or authorized agent of the owner of copyright in three creative works subject to infringing publication at www.slabbbed.org. Infringing publication is occurring via a derivative work at the following URL:

http://www.slabbbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2011/09/trout\_point.jpg

This original creative work that is a photograph of Charles Leary and Vaughn Perret is registered with the Intellectual Property Office, Canada, in my name.

That same image is being published without permission at:

<http://www.slabbbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2013/03/Frank-Magazine-Story-on-Goatherders-790x1024.jpg>

The above URL is also publishing, without permission, a photograph of Trout Point Lodge belonging to Trout Point Lodge. The image was published with permission at <http://www.canticumhotels.com/sitebuildercontent/sitebuilderpictures/tpl.jpg>

I have a good faith belief that use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law. I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the information in the notification is accurate and that I am authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is infringed, or that I am the owner of an exclusive right that is infringed.

Please remove the 2 creative works indicated above from publication on www.slabbbed.org.

This is a Notice of claimed infringement under the Copyright Act of Canada, which states:

Notice of claimed infringement

- 41.25 (1) An owner of the copyright in a work or other subject-matter may send a notice of claimed infringement to a person who provides
  - (a) the means, in the course of providing services related to the operation of the Internet or another digital network, of telecommunication through which the electronic location that is the subject of the claim of infringement is connected to the Internet or another digital network;
  - (b) for the purpose set out in subsection 31.1(4), the digital memory that is used for the electronic location to which the claim of infringement relates; or
  - (c) an information location tool as defined in subsection 41.27(5)

On information and belief, Amazon Web Services hosts slabbed.org. Amazon Web Services also does business in Canada.

I am the owner of the photographic work located at: <http://www.slabbbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2011/09/leary-perret.jpg?w=300> and <http://slabbbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2011/09/leary-perret1.jpg>. This work is registered with the Canada Intellectual Property Office.

I have a judgment from Nova Scotia Supreme Court declaring its ownership of the work, and that the use on slabbed.org is infringing. slabbed.org serially infringes copyrighted works. The U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi has just found that slabbed.org has hosted another copyrighted work without permission. That court found that the publisher of slabbed.org, Douglas Handshoe, "posted the image without permission of the copyright owner or his agent." That court dismissed Mr. Handshoe's lawsuit against the copyright owner's agent for misrepresentation under 17 USC 512(f) with prejudice, stating the court "does not find that Plaintiff has sufficiently pleaded a misrepresentation under § 512(f)."

The use of this image at the two URLs indicated above is not authorized by me, the copyright owner, or the law; under penalty of perjury the above information is true and I am the copyright owner.

Dear Trout Point Lodge,

Thank you for your email. This matter has already been reported under a separate matter and assigned Amazon EC2 Abuse Report 17352696474. The content at issue has been removed and a valid DMCA counter notice obtained and forwarded along. As the matter at hand has been remanded to the trial court for further consideration, no current judgment on the matter has been made. Please feel free to resubmit the issue if, and when, a ruling in your favor has been obtained.

This blog is publishing defamatory material in violation of a Court Order from the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia containing both mandatory and permanent injunctions (see attached Court Order).

In addition, the Louisiana Fifth Circuit Court of Appeal has found that the blog has published a pornographic drawing involving a minor child (see attached court decision).

This user publishes material in violation of the AWS Terms of Service, and you have already been put on notice of continuing infringing publication of copyrighted materials.

Dear Chad:

Thank you for your email.

There are multiple instances of infringement, each of which has been separately reported to Amazon with notices of claimed infringement. We have yet to receive any response to all but one notice.

If the client of AWS has told you the material is inaccessible, this is incorrect. DMCA protections for service providers do not have effect in Canada, and in addition, AWS has failed to provide a timely response to notices if one were to use the DMCA's provisions. Copyright, as I'm sure you are aware, is also the subject of international agreement and treaties between the United States and Canada.

After we informed you that content was accessible at http://slabbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/01/DMCA\_SUSPENSE/ that content has temporarily been removed from that location. However, multiple instances of other material infringing registered copyrights still exists on your servers. If you need me to re-send notifications, please let me know. Amazon's response to these has thus far been non existent.

The issue of the distinct ongoing defamation case in Louisiana relating to slabbed.org and Douglas Handshoe was brought to your attention so that Amazon would know exactly who and what type of blog you are hosting. In our case, an injunction order issued by Nova Scotia Supreme Court is in existence, and binding, unless AWS has stopped doing business in Canada and Nova Scotia, and slabbed.org is not being downloaded in Nova Scotia or Canada from your servers. From what we can tell, AWS does significant business and has operations in Canada.

We will pursue legal redress, including avenues provided by NAFTA, the Berne Convention, and action in Canadian courts, but have no desire to resort to costly litigation. We have in a reasonable and detailed fashion made Amazon and AWS aware of materials infringing copyright on your servers, as well as the existence of valid injunctions relating to the slabbed blog and Douglas Handshoe. We have provided a copy of the Court Order. The decision regarding copyright infringement is attached. We expect an adequate response from Amazon, and a resolution to this matter.

I would be happy to provide any additional facts you might need.

To: foodvacation@gmail.com

Dear Charles,

Thank you for your reply. As there have been numerous emails from you from multiple email addresses, if you could please provide a comprehensive list of the URLs you claim to be infringing we will move to action those not already processed. Please provide the comprehensive list in proper DMCA format which requires the inclusion of the following:

- * A description of the copyrighted work that you claim has been infringed upon;
- * A description of where the material that you claim is infringing is located on the Site;
- * Your address, telephone number, and e-mail address;
- * A statement by you that you have a good-faith belief that the disputed use is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law;
- * A statement by you, made under penalty of perjury, that the above information in your notice is accurate and that you are the copyright owner or authorized to act on the copyright owner's behalf.

The following content has already been received and processed under the DMCA for which we received the previously provided counter notice:

<http://slabbed.org/2012/12/04/wash-rinse-repeat-aaron-broussards-former-property-managers-in-canada-again-sue-slabbed-for-defamation-in-nova-scotia/>

<http://slabbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/01/trout-point-lodge-300x199.jpg%2C>

<http://slabbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/01/trout-point-lodge.jpg>

With regard to the above content, we will allow this material to be accessible 10 business days after the counter notice was provided to you, unless you provide us with notice that a copyright infringement lawsuit relating to the identified content has been filed against our customer.

As you noted, it does appear that the content referenced at: http://slabbed.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/01/DMCA\_SUSPENSE/ is no longer accessible.

With regard to your claims of defamation, as previously noted, if and when a judgment or settlement in your favor has been obtained in your pending litigation in Louisiana, please provide and we will take appropriate action.

Kindest Regards,

Chad Bundy

Dear Chad:

Thank you for your email.

There are multiple instances of infringement, each of which has been separately reported to Amazon with notices of claimed infringement. We have yet to receive any response to all but one notice.

Some information contained in your email is incorrect, as, first, most infringing content has not been removed and is readily accessible; and, second, we have a final judgment from Nova Scotia Supreme Court regarding copyright infringement and defamation. If the client of AWS has told you the material is inaccessible, this is incorrect. DMCA protections for service providers do not have effect in Canada, and in addition, AWS has failed to provide a timely response to notices if one were to use the DMCA's provisions. However, multiple instances of other material infringing registered copyrights still exists on your servers. If you need me to re-send notifications, please let me know. Amazon's response to these has thus far been non existent.

The issue of the distinct ongoing defamation case in Louisiana relating to slabbed.org and Douglas Handshoe was brought to your attention so that Amazon would know exactly who and what type of blog you are hosting. There is significant fact finding in the decision of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeal, and under Louisiana's anti-SLAPP legislation, fact finding on special motions to strike is binding with respect to future litigation. You can consult La. CCP Art. 971 and relevant case law. The finding regarding "pornography" being distributed on Slabbed was made by that Court *sua sponte*.

In our case, an injunction order issued by Nova Scotia Supreme Court is in existence, and binding, unless AWS has stopped doing business in Canada and Nova Scotia, and slabbed.org is not being downloaded in Nova Scotia or Canada from your servers. From what we can tell, AWS does significant business and has operations in Canada.

We will pursue legal redress, including avenues provided by NAFTA, the Berne Convention, and action in Canadian courts, but have no desire to resort to costly litigation. We have in a reasonable and detailed fashion made Amazon and AWS aware of materials infringing copyright on your servers, as well as the existence of valid injunctions relating to the slabbed blog and Douglas Handshoe. We have provided a copy of the Court Order. The decision regarding copyright infringement is attached. We expect an adequate response from Amazon, and a resolution to this matter.

I would be happy to provide any additional facts you might need.
